XM Radio is very dependable. I'm a truck driver and it is very useful to get traffic and weather reports on my XM Radio. If I am going to pass through a city that has instant traffic and weather I can tune in hundreds of miles away. Then if I hear there is bad weather or for some reason the interstate is closed for some reason I can then choose an alternate route around that city long before I get there. This could save me a lot of driving time and money because I would not have to turn around and go back or get stuck sitting in traffic.
